

BURLEY TOBACCO SOCIETY HAS BEEN HIT HARD

U. S. Court Decides That it is in Violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Law.
Nothing to Submit to the Jury But the Amount of Damage.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 10.—(Special)—The Burley Tobacco Society was given a fatal blow a regular solar plexus in the United States Court Wednesday in the suit of Eshelby Tobacco Company vs. Clarence LeBus, Ferguson and the Burley Tobacco Society, and it now looks as though the society is facing the beginning of the end.

Judge Hollister, of the United States District Court, for the Southern District of Ohio, decided that the Burley Tobacco Society's contracts with the independent were in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, and that he would so instruct the jury, and this being his decision, there would be but one question for the jury to determine and that is the amount of damage sustained by the E. O. Eshelby Tobacco Company, plaintiffs in the case.

The decision was precipitated by questions asked during the morning session as to what percentage of the Burley crop in the year 1906 was in the hands of the Burley Society.

Attorneys for the plaintiff objected to this on the ground that it was immaterial and then the question of the interstate commerce phase of the case came up and Judge Hollister asked if the attorneys wished to argue this point. Upon reply that they did the jury was excused and remained out nearly the remainder of the day.

Judge Hollister summed up the question in detail. He said that the case before him presented many interesting phases and there was no doubt that naturally there should have been sympathy extended to the farmers and growers of Kentucky in their effort to uphold prices of their tobacco in the face of an iniquitous system by which it had been sought at prices considered ruinously low, but he thought that the practical legal phase of the question should be considered and he believed the case to be one for the Supreme Court to finally decide. He expressed the belief that the Supreme Court would uphold him in his opinion.

In his opinion, Judge Hollister ruled that the tobacco pooled by the Burley Tobacco Society was intended necessarily for use in interstate commerce, had always been so intended and subsequently was used in interstate commerce; that the Burley Tobacco Society fixed a price on this tobacco and refused to accept any price other than the one fixed, and that this act is considered by him to be in violation of that portion of the Sherman anti-trust law which concerns interstate commerce.

Plaintiff Has Won Suit

While a number of witnesses are to be examined Thursday, it is admitted by both sides Wednesday night that the opinion settles the suit in favor of the plaintiff and that the only matter to follow will be the amount of damages, if any, to be awarded. This will be determined by the jury which is expected to receive the case Friday.

It is the general opinion of those interested that the Burley Tobacco Society received a body blow which will eventually cause its death. Those who have followed the case carefully and are competent to pass on the legal points involved give it as their opinion that the Supreme Court will affirm Judge Hollister's decision, and if it does, the Burley Tobacco Society will then be in the same attitude as were the Standard Oil Company, American Tobacco Company and such like and will be liable for proceedings against for a dissolution.

In the Eshelby suit LeBus and Ferguson are sued personally for a large amount, and judgment may go against them personally. It is now expected that the jury will return its verdict by Saturday of this week. The plaintiffs are suing for $300,000 damages.

Despite the snow and bad weather a large crowd was on hand to attend the sales Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the R. A. Scobee Warehouse on Flanagan street. About ten buyers were on hand and the bidding was good; fair prices being realized. The tobacco was of a medium dark grade. About 50,000 pounds were sold at the Scobee house and the highest price was 15 3/4 cents. The sales were entirely satisfactory to both purchasers and sellers.

At the Planters' Loose Leaf Warehouse Thursday afternoon about 100,000 was put on the market. A large force of buyers was on hand and bidding was spirited. The sales started at the Planters' house at 1:15 and up to 2:30 the highest price realized was 20 cents.

NEEDED BRADLEY'S VOTE IN SENATE

Washington Correspondent of Courier-Journal Explains President's Attitude Toward Kentucky Senator.

In telling of the interview between Judge Tartar and President Taft on the Danville Collectors, in which Judge Tartar urged the retention of Collector Cooper and commented on the large amount of patronage given to Senator Bradley, who fought President Taft in Kentucky during the battle for the nomination, the Courier-Journal's Washington correspondent says:

"He (the President) explained his kindness to Senator Bradley by saying that he needed his vote in the Senate. Every vote counted, he said, on account of the small Republican majority, some of whom were not friendly to him.

"Some of his pet measures, Mr. Taft said, had gone through with a margin of only one or two votes. He said he must listen to the Republican Senator from Kentucky.

"When Senator Bradley was told of all this he smiled and said:

"I am standing pat. I do not expect to see the President again on this matter. I understand it is settled, and Wiseman will be appointed; further than this I have nothing whatever to say."

OUR POOR AND THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Appeal Made For Contributions To Help Alleviate The Suffering Of The City's Needy.

Those of us who have warm clothing, plenty to eat and good warm homes, have, with all these comforts, suffered considerably during the extremely bad weather of the past week, but we have no conception of what the poor of our city have suffered, who have not been so well favored as we have.

Miss Peddicord, the Secretary of the Associated Charities, reports that she has had more calls in the past few days for assistance, than at any time since the organization of the Charities, but the organization has been able to meet the demands of everyone.

There have been much sickness, and the requests for medicine has been one large item, but the greatest need of most of the poor, has been for provisions and coal.

The people of this community do not fully realize the importance or the vastness of the work of our Associated Charities, and while there are a few who are deeply interested in the work, and through their efforts this organization is maintained, there are many who know nothing of the work at all and who never contribute one penny to it. This should not be. All of us who are able, should take a hand in this most excellent work.

The Secretary states that she can dispose of all of the old clothing, shoes, hats, and such like that will be sent to the room in the Fraternity Building, but that while these articles are essential and necessary, still it requires money to buy coal, groceries, medicine and pay for caring and nursing the sick.

It is hoped that every one who reads this when he or she sits down to a good supper and a warm fire, tonight, will think of the poor unfortunate, in this city, who are hungry, without warm raiment, a home or fire, and will, on tomorrow morning, take to the office of the Associated Charities or send there, a good contribution of money, that this work may be carried on so that our poor and hungry may be fed and cared for.

GIRLS TO GET MONEY

Canton, O., Jan. 12.—The 14 court-house girls, to whom Samuel Rudy, 86 years old, has willed $1,000 each, will not have to wait until the retired farmer passes away to get their bequests. He is planning to turn the money over to them at once because of little favors they had shown him during court litigation against him.

Miss Edith Smith, teacher at Warrenton, Ind., was killed in a schoolhouse by Sylvester Adams, husband of her friend, whose attention she had repulsed. Adams committed suicide.

DR. FELIX WAS OUT HUNTING

Companion Had Gone to Scare up a Flock of Birds, And When He Returned, Minister Was Dead.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 11.—Relatives of the Rev. W. H. Felix, the noted Baptist minister, arriving here with his body Wednesday, report that Dr. Felix died suddenly while out hunting with a friend near Clearwater, Fla. Being fond of bird hunting, yet feeble, he took a friend with him into the woods, and the friend had just left him to scare up a flock of birds, leaving Dr. Felix sitting on a stool which he carried for rest.

A code of signals was agreed on, but when Dr. Felix failed to respond to the signals given by his friend the latter returned to the spot where he left Dr. Felix only to find he had fallen from the stool, and was lying dead with his gun beside him. The gun was not discharged and examination showed heart disease was the cause of death.

Dr. Felix formerly preached at the Baptist church at Preston and Chestnut, in this city.

VOTES FOR WOMEN IN SOUTHERN STATES

Are Predicted by Mrs. Desha Breckinridge.—Ten Years is Given As Time Limit.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 11.—"Women will be voting in most of the Southern states within ten years," said Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, member from Lexington, Ky., of the Executive Board at the General Federation of Women's Club session Wednesday. During a talk in which she discussed men and women in their legal and political relationship, Mrs. Breckinridge said:

"Laws for the protection of women and children are weaker in the South, with all its traditions of chivalry, than in any other section of the country."

A proposition to reorganize the convention of the federation into a senate and house of representatives will be presented at the biennial meeting in San Francisco, by Mrs. L. L. Hokenburg, wife of the Mayor of Philadelphia.

PRESIDENT OF PARIS BASEBALL TEAM

To Wed Miss Josephine Behrman, of Newport.—Both Prominent And Popular Young People.

Paris, Ky., Jan. 11.—The Louisville Post of Wednesday contained the following telegram from Cincinnati:

"Mr. and Mrs. Henry Behrman, of Newport's best society circles, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Josephine, to J. W. Bacon, of Paris, Ky.

"The marriage will be a social event in February at the home of the bride-elect's parents. Mr. Bacon is very prominent socially in Paris."

This announcement will be received with much interest here, where the bridegroom-to-be has many friends in social and business circles, and is known as "G." Bacon. He is the popular president of the Paris baseball team, and is a prosperous young bachelor.

Miss Behrman is a very attractive young lady, who has been a frequent visitor to Miss Corinne Collins and has made many friends here.

Charles Buluois, aged 23, fined in Hammond, Ind., for spanking his 16-year-old wife with a strap, said he thought this was a free country, and he had a right to chastise her.

SCHOBERTH ON THE WARPATH

Takes Scalp of Regular Democrats With His Band of Braves By Amending Rule.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 11.—Harry A. Schoberth and his band of braves who supported him in his fight for Speaker against Claude B. Terrell, went on the warpath Wednesday and, through a combination with the Republicans, took the scalp of the regular Democrats by amending a rule of the rules committee providing for a two-thirds vote to change or suspend the rules so that a majority might change or suspend the rules at any time.

Schoberth and his followers determined that it was a poor rule that wouldn't work both ways and as it had been provided that a majority should rule in the matter of preventing the smothering of bills, it ought to take the same vote to do any changing that might be regarded as necessary in the rules under which the House is working.

There was considerable indignation among the Terrell Democrats but little was said about it by them. Schoberth was well taken care of by Speaker Terrell in his committee assignments, being made Chairman of Kentucky Statutes and being appointed on Court of Appeals, Codes of Practice, Confederate Home, Education, No. 1, and Rules.

In the appointment of committees by Speaker Terrell, Hon. R. D. Hunter, of Clark county, was given the following assignments: Agriculture, Appropriations, Claims, (Chairman), Classification of Cities and Towns, Confederate Home and Re-districting-Judicial.

TONIGHT

A new version by Lem B. Parker of his beautiful society drama, "A Girl of The Mountains," will be presented Thursday night at the Winchester Theatre. The natural gaiety and humor prevailing this play is altogether delightful. It has, furthermore, all the qualities that distinguish good drama from bad and every detail consistent with each character, is carefully taken care of; therefore, one acts with and enjoys the characters, the intense situations that follow one another from beginning to end.

It is a modern love story of New York society life and it keeps its hearers up to the highest pitch of interest and excitement. The play develops the theme that love is a mainstay of life, outweighing all considerations, even that of a past. Mr. O. E. Wee has engaged a splendid cast and a magnificent scenic display will be offered.

MAXIMUM FINE

Canton, O., Jan. 11.—Because Robert Ross, of Pittsburg kicked a defenseless dog to death here, Judge W. B. Quinn Wednesday gave Ross the maximum sentence, a fine of $200. Ross claims he was taking the dog to a creek to drown it, when it bit him. Officers testified that the dog was badly mutilated and its pitiful howls could be heard for squares when Ross attempted to strangle it with a piece of cord.

STARTS INVESTIGATION

MANY MILLIONS IN STOCKS AND BONDS

Are Recovered From One Of The Smaller Vaults In The Burned Equitable Building.

New York, Jan. 11.—More than $50,000,000 in stock and bonds was recovered from one of the smaller vaults in the burned Equitable Life Assurance Society building late Wednesday, but it will probably be a week, perhaps longer before the great vaults of the society and the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company have given up their half billion or more in securities.

Further examination of the gaunt, ice-shrouded building, swept on Tuesday by fire, showed the vaults are still intact. In the opinion of those who made the inspection, an opinion reinforced by the revelation Wednesday that the smaller vaults had kept their treasure safe, their contents will suffer little, if any, but buried as they are under hundreds of tons of ice and debris, it may be a matter of weeks before it will be advisable to open them.

Meanwhile securities, variously estimated in value from half a billion to a billion and a half dollars, cannot be reached.

Governor Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, agitated at the sight of a young white teacher with her arms about two negro pupils, in his annual message to the Legislature, commands that it pass an act prohibiting any white person from teaching in negro schools, or teaching negro children.

MURDER IN LEXINGTON

That was a terrific indictment of Lexington Judge Charles Kerr gave the Blue Grass capital when he said it and Fayette county furnished more homicides in the past year than London, England, with all her teen-ing millions. We haven't the figures handy but we know something of Judge Kerr and he would make no such statement without the facts to back him.

Lexington has been blessed with several killings the past year in the Red Light district, but, so far as a close reading would permit, we have failed to note that a single murderer was sent to the electric chair by a Fayette jury. In only one instance we remember was a life sentence imposed. One slayer got off absolutely scot free and another was sent to lunatic asylum from which he escaped only Wednesday night. The victims of these crimes rest in un-mourned and unhonored graves while their slayers breathe the air they contaminate and actually mingle with men who claim to be respectable in the cafes of Lexington.

We hear much of killings in Breathitt county. Nearly every newspaper in the United States will publish the story of a killing in Breathitt, but if such a thing happens in Lexington it is either not told at all in the outside press or is buried inside the papers publishing it without any unduly prominent headlines. Breathitt has suffered as a result and we doubt if even Breathitt county can equal the record of Fayette last year in the reckless disregard of human life shown by its gun-users.

If some of those who make it a practice to loaf around questionable resorts could be sent to the electric chair, regardless of their pull with the police and with the community it would help mightily to clear the air down in that populous and wealthy county. The trouble in Fayette county is partly with the police in Lexington in their failure to clear out the restricted district of such vagabonds and with the alleged respectable men of the city who associate with the cattle that infest these joints and then attempt to mingle with men who have some trace of self-respect. The jurie-themselves are also to blame for their apparent willingness to strain a point in giving the defendant in murder trials the benefit of the doubt.
It seems they get all the benefit judging from the result of the trial in the Fayette courts.

Few people in Central Kentucky have forgotten one famous Fayette case, when a young saloon loafer shot down without provocation one of the leading citizens of Lexington gave a straw bond and was practically allowed to walk of the Police Judge and the police officials, and has never been apprehended to this day. A man who slew a councilman in his own hotel has been twice tried with hung juries both times. It seems that it is impossible to obtain the conviction of gun-users in that county. So long as that condition obtains Lexington is likely to continue to lead London in murders.

ADVICE OF BRADLEY

May Cost Split Kentucky Delegation Judge Tartar Tells Taft.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The President caught a Tartar at the White House when Judge Rosecoe Tartar, of Somerset, Ky., called with Representative Powers, Eleventh Kentucky District, to urge the retention of Collector of Internal Revenue Collector Cooper at Danville. Judge Tartar told the President that he was ignoring all his old friends in Kentucky and turning everything over to Senator Bradley, who had opposed him four years ago.

Judge Tartar said the retention of Cooper would bring about harmony in the Eleventh District and result in a delegation to the Chicago convention for the President. He had doubts if this would be the case if the President followed Senator Bradley and appointed Winston Wi-of Danville.

Mr. Powers and Judge Tartar got very little satisfaction from the President, who indicated that the Senate is mighty close politically these days, and he couldn't afford to lose the votes of Republican Senators.

The split between the President and Representative Powers was a fruitful topic of discussion among Kentucky Republican politicians.
It is stated that the President believes that Mr. Powers is not enthusiastically for him for renomination, and is therefore proceeding to corral the delegates without reference to the Eleventh District Congressman.

Powers' union with his ancient enemies, the Edwards faction, for the retention of Cooper forms an amazing chapter in Kentucky Republican politics. Powers, with the assistance of Senator Bradley, defeated Edwards for renomination and now finds himself lined up against the Senator and with Edwards.

District Attorney Morrow, of Covington; Charles Finley, of Williamsburg; Hiram Johnson, of Laurel county; John G. Matthews, of Knox county; James Denton, of Pulaski and a number of others are being mentioned as candidates for Representative Powers' seat in the House should the Eleventh District member announce his opposition to the renomination of President Taft.
Senator Bradley, the leader of the Taft forces in the state, reiterated that the President would get the delegation to Chicago, regardless of the present flurry.

Charles Duham, Lovington, Ill., has succeeded in finding a positive cure for bed wetting. "My little boy wet the bed every night clear thro' on the floor. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine and I was in the drug store looking for something different to help him when I heard of Foley's Kidney Pills. After he had taken them two days we could see a change and when he had taken two-thirds of a bottle he was cured. That is about six weeks ago and he has not wet in bed since."
